

I don't want you tinkering with my satellite radio service. You already made it impossible for me to get out of town television on my DirectTV, now you are screwing with this. STOP! If the local radio people can't compete, the hell with them. Their service stinks anyway. That's why I got the satellite radio in the first place. Why would you attempt to limit my options? I would think that the more options the better in America. Just leave it alone for once.
